In the movie, Home, the alien race known as the Boov are good at one thing - running away. While on the run from their enemy, the Gorg, the Boov have decided to start a friendly invasion of Earth, led by Captain Smek. The Boov relocate the humans to other parts of the planet while they take over their homes. One of the Boov is a more excited and free - thinking member of the species. He invites all of the other Boov to his apartment for a housewarming party. Sadly, none of them show up. "Oh", this free-thinking Boov, is feeling lonely.

Not far from Oh is a teenage girl named Tip. She was separated from her mother, Lucy, during the invasion, leaving Tip, and her pet cat, Pig, alone and frightened. These feelings fuel her hatred for the Boov. Finally, Tip has no choice but to make a run for it, leaving her home, taking her car, and searching for her mother.

Oh runs into the street and finds a Boov cop named Kyle. He, like the rest of his species, is annoyed with Oh. Oh invites Kyle to his party, and then decides to send a mass invite to every Boov on Earth. Oh hits, "reply all", which causes the email to go to EVERYBODY in the galaxy, including the Gorg. The Boov panic, and Oh becomes a fugitive. He runs away, running into Tip and Pig in a convenience store. Tip traps Oh in a freezer, but then needs to let him out when her car won't start, and she needs him to convert it into a car that runs on slushie. Oh takes Tip to the Paris Boov command center to get information on the whereabouts of her mother. Meanwhile, the smartest Boov decides that they can stop the invitation from getting to the Gorg, but Oh's password is unique (everyone else's is "Password"), so they need to arrest Oh. Oh and Tip need to find a way to stop the email, AND they need to find Tip's mom. This is Oh's chance to prove he can do it!
